Automation of administrative tasks

Increasing pressure in terms of time- and cost-efficiency results in the need for it-infrastructure to adjust to new tasks faster and with more flexibility. From an administrative point of view, this leaves less time for maintenance and monitoring of said it-infrastructure.

JAEMACOM has developed a solution based on Citrix Workflowstudio to deal with those challenges. Recurring configuration- and installation-tasks, processes and monitoring of the systems can be automated and delegated to staff members without extensive it-knowledge.

Within the administration panel, all technology components are displayed on a graphical interface. For this reason, they can easily be connected on a virtual workflow drawing-board. The system administrator's task of combining processes and systems into workflows is greatly simplified.

All Microsoft and Citrix components are compatible with this solution by default. Integration of third-party-components is possible without much effort.

The flexible technical concept based on .NET, Powershell and Windows Workflow-technologies was intentionally chosen to enable simple implementation and enhancement of all solutions .

The integration with existing portal solutions, for instance Microsoft SharePoint, further simplifies the deployment in your company.
